

Become an Artist for the Evening at “Chalk Walk”, during First Friday events at the Highlands Museum and Discovery Center

On Friday June 5th, 2009, the Highlands Museum and Discovery Center will host “Chalk Walk”. The event will be held in conjunction with First Friday activities in downtown Ashland. The fun begins at 5:15 and lasts until 8:15pm. There will be an amateur sidewalk drawing competition. Art will truly come to life at this event of free activities and family fun. Admission to the museum is free for the evening, and there will be free food, and live music.
